

Did you know that 1 in 2 Canadians will be diagnosed with cancer in their lifetime?

That's why we offer to protect your family and your financial future from the unexpected, despite the high risk of developing cancer.

Can you afford to be sick?

The public plan generally covers certain treatments, but many indirect medical expenses are not included. You may have to pay for the following out of pocket:

- Unpaid leave of absence for your spouse or a family member
- Frequent trips for treatments and medical appointments
- Hospital parking
- Medical equipment and supplies
- Home care
- Certain drugs
- Hospitalization
- Out-of-Canada specialized medical care
- Additional treatments
